Alberta's Cattle

Alberta with her great fields of virgin soil yet unfenced and uncultivated has prominently been the ranchers' paradise. The situation, geographically, of this young province, makes the climatic conditions favorable for ranching. Ranges of mountain protect her from the blighting winds of the northern regions. On the other hand the warm breezes from the Gulf of Mexico practically have a moderating influence even in the winter. Hence in the most northern districts the climate is comparatively mild.

The regime of the rancher is, however, to a great extent past. On every side the farmers and settlers are moving in and crowding him back. He will, however, have grazing lands for years to come—there are parts in the foothills which will never be any other than grazing land.

In passing through the country two things at least impress the new-comer, the water supply and the growth of natural grass. In the western and southern parts there is no limit to the flow of spring creeks. Crystal springs bubble from the rock here and there till a small creek is formed by other like streamlets to flow through the thirsty land and refresh it, and as one looks from the highlands they appear like threads of silver in a cloth of brown and green as they thread their way through the grassy prairie.

Besides, Alberta is soon to be a province of windmills. Many farmers in Southern and Central Alberta have deep drilled wells over which the windmill spreads its broad wings as its fans the breeze and lazily pumps up the cool water and pours it out into the great trough for the thirsting stock.

The grass is not long, except in the sloughs where it grows from three to six feet. On the level land it is not more than a foot and a half high. It resembles very much wire grass—growing thicker and not so coarse.

Late in the fall, when the frosts have struck it the grass becomes a yellowish brown and has all the characteristics of hay. In fact it really has undergone a curing process. When it gets thoroughly dry and mature the winter frost has no more effect on it than hay, and as there is practically no rain from August till Spring it makes excellent feed. When one walks over this thick mass of dried grass there is no spring sensation similar to that felt when walking on loose sand.

Cattle do not winter quite so well on this feed as horses. In the spring of the year those that have not been feed look somewhat thin. But it is remarkable how quickly they gain up when the grass freshens in the spring. A herd seen in May would not be recognized as the same cattle in June or July.

Many ranchers put up hay during September for the winter supply. Where cattle are wintered in the open, even if fed, they are not brought through in the same condition as if kept inside.

The conditions, therefore, are in some cases such that they cannot be got on to the market early enough to compete with the eastern stall feed animals. In a few districts where the coarse grain is utilized for feeding some choice bullocks are shipped off early in the season.

It is a beautiful sight to see two or three thousand steers together. The writer recalls seeing about two hundred Herefords in a bunch. They were all deboned and were as fat and sleek as seals. They would weigh from twelve to eighteen hundred pounds. These fellows had been wintered on hay and were to be shipped to the old country in September and October.

When Alberta becomes more thickly settled, as it will, more extensive farming will be necessary and more thorough methods will make it one of the greatest producing provinces in the dominion.

A Sunny Alberta Poem

Of special interest to girls from 18 to 20.

I am living on my homestead
In the wild and woolly west,
In sunny Southern Alberta,
The land I love the best,
The air is pure and wholesome,
And is also dry and clear,
And though one were an invalid,
He'd sure be healthy here.

I know that in Ontario
There is all kinds of snow;
In fact I had a letter
Not very long ago
That said the depth was some two feet
And snowing nearly all the time,
While here in sunny Alberta
It's still the good old summer time.

The soil is very fertile,
And so level is the ground
That one can stand most anywhere
And see for miles around.
Some places in Alberta
There are rocks and hills galore,
But then it's just as valuable,
In fact I think 'tis more.

For coal is found in great supply,
And mines are opening fast,
And also in abundance
Is found the natural gas.
I'll never go out to the bush
To saw and log again,
I'll cultivate my fertile soil
And live upon the grain.

I have not yet sowed any grain,
For my farm is virgin yet.
But when I plowed this autumn
I'll sow with wheat next year, I bet.
For the crops are very certain;
In fact I have been told
That if one works his ground up good
He'll reap an hundredfold.

But of all the great advantages
In this grand and happy land,
There's one that I have surely missed,
Now guess it if you can.
When I come in from work at night
My house is dark and drear;
There is no voice to welcome me—
I'm very lonely here.
But if some nice girl would only come
And cast her lot with me,
And cheer and brighten up my home,
How happy I would be.
For, boys, I know that you'll agree,
No matter where we roam,
If there's not a woman in the house
It does not seem like home.

For when a man sits down at night
To read the latest news
Instead of getting what he wants
He simply gets the blues.
If any of the gentler sex
Who read these bachelor lines
Prom out the Cayley Hustler
And who can read the signs,
Become concerned or interested
In anything with me,
Just kindly drop a line or two
To—

IT'S NEWS WORTH
GIVING TO THE WORLD

HOW RAVAGES OF KIDNEY DISEASE ARE CHECKED IN QUEBEC.

Mrs. Julien Panchaud, for seven years a sufferer, finds quick relief and complete cure by the Kidney Pills.

Whiteville, Tennessee, Ga. Que., (Special)—With the coming of winter the ravages of kidney disease are again felt in this province, and the fact that a cure is vouchsafed for in this village is news worth giving to the world. Mrs. Julien Panchaud is the person cured and she states without hesitation that she found her cure in Dr. Williams' Kidney Pills.

"For seven years my heart and kidneys bothered me," Mrs. Panchaud states, "I was always tired and nervous, I could not sleep. My limbs were heavy and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. My eyes had dark circles under them and were puffed and swollen. I was so ill I could hardly drag myself around to do my household."

"A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Williams' Kidney Pills, and I found relief in the first few days. I feel perfectly well."

"If you have any two of Mrs. Panchaud's symptoms your kidneys are diseased. Come to the nearest agent at once, if not fatal results will befall Dr. Williams' Kidney Pills."

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is a new and one-dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Catarrh Cure is the only cure in the world now known to be a permanent cure. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional cure. Dr. Williams' Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood, mucous surface of the entire system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the system strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they have offered $100,000 for a case that it fails to cure. Send for full particulars.

NERVE AGONIES

All Nervous Diseases Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Nerves that are over-worked or weak quickly indicate their weakness. That pain may be neuralgia or inflamed nerves, usually affecting the head, back, arms, legs and limbs. It may be nervous dyspepsia, easily started by every element or weakness. It may be St. Vitus dance, or tremor, or convulsions among children, or neurasthenia, a condition of general nervous exhaustion accompanied by acute melancholy. Worst of all the pain may signal the early stages of paralysis or nervous decay. All these disorders signify that the lung nerves are clamoring for nourishment in the form of good, rich blood. The numerous cures of the above nervous diseases and weakness in both sexes by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are accounted for by the fact that these Pills actually make new, rich blood and so supply the starved nerves with the vital elements needed to strengthen them. Dr. J. C. Jones, Westmoreland, Man., says: "A few years ago I was unable to suffer from nervous debility, brought about through over-attack of a grippe or influenza. When the first effects were felt I tried to make up in the middle of sleep trouble like a lead, and in a both of mild perspiration. I was unable to sleep so bad that I scarcely got a wink of sleep, and would toss about in bed, groaning and crying. I feared for my life. A doctor was called in, and, after another without avail. I became more and more worn, and my wife, who was always well spirited, and in my apparent reason would have fits of crying. While in this condition, a nervous wreck, I read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for others. I determined to give them a trial. The time I had for the first few boxes I began to get some sleep, and this greatly encouraged me. Then my strength began to return. I grew stouter and in a few weeks more I was feeling as well as ever. I did in my life, and you may be sure I will always guard against a relapse. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to every sick or ailing, as they restored me to health and strength. I have no medicines had failed."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six for $2.50, sent from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BIRMINGHAM.

Whence Does the Great English City Get Its Name?

Some remarks respecting the derivation of the word "Birmingham" may prove interesting, writes a correspondent. In an old work, the following appears: "Hutton's etymology and knowledge was of the most limited nature, and a common error in pronouncing the word led to the old coinage error. He tells us that the original seems to have been Bromwich, from Brom, from Brom, a shrub, for the growth of which the soil was famous. The word, Wyth, a descent, this exactly corresponds with the delivery from the High Street to Digbeth. Having got his Bromwich, he has to account for the 'th'. This word being Saxo for home, he says, was added, probably, under the Saxo Hierarchy. Thus the meaning of the word would be the home-on-the-descent on which home grows. Unfortunately for this pretty theory, the old name was not Bromwich, but Bermingham or Bermingham, and therefore the profile nature of the soil in projecting Birmingham has nothing to do with the name at all."

A better, and doubtless the true derivation, is given by Mr. James Freeman, in a letter published in the Athenaeum, September 8, 1883. He says: "The word Birmingham is derived from Saxo in its constituent parts, nothing short of positive evidence that you have not enjoyed for months, or perhaps years. Take our word on it. Get a bottle of the bottle today. Write the D. D. Laboratories, 400 College St., Toronto, and they will send you a little bottle free."

Often what appears to be the most trivial and unimportant of things are the most momentous. Many are disposed to regard a cold as a slight ailment, and to neglect it until it has become a serious one. The result is often a severe attack of influenza, or even a fatal case of pneumonia. It is, therefore, of great importance to take prompt action when a cold is first felt. Minard's Liniment is a most effective remedy for all colds, coughs, and bronchitis. It is made of the finest ingredients, and is guaranteed to give relief in all cases.

The subject of conversation between the last two sportsmen left up at night in the smoking room after a hard day's shooting was the wonderment of the dogs.

"Mine is a marvel. Not long ago I went motoring far from home. My pointer, very shrewd, found the hunter out of his collar, and found me too. He was the best dog I ever thought of."

"I think you ought to have a bath."

It is related that a gentleman who was riding a horse in company with a jockey, noticed, after having driven on for a mile or two, that he pulled pretty hard, requiring constant watching and a steady two, the gentleman enquired: "Do you think it is just the horse for a day to drive?"

"Well, sir," answered the jockey, "I must say that I shouldn't want to marry the woman who could drive that horse."

COLLOSSAL LONDON.

Some Facts and Figures About the World's Metropolis.

No man living has ever yet seen London as it really is. There are, in fact, twelve Londons, one of which—the county—is controlled by 4,300,000 people, the largest number of people who live in any one place in the world.

The largest London, one square mile, is the County of London, 110 square miles. The second largest, the County of Middlesex, 350 square miles. The third largest, the County of Surrey, 350 square miles. The fourth largest, the County of Kent, 350 square miles. The fifth largest, the County of Essex, 350 square miles. The sixth largest, the County of Sussex, 350 square miles. The seventh largest, the County of Hampshire, 350 square miles. The eighth largest, the County of Devon, 350 square miles. The ninth largest, the County of Cornwall, 350 square miles. The tenth largest, the County of Dorset, 350 square miles. The eleventh largest, the County of Somerset, 350 square miles. The twelfth largest, the County of Gloucestershire, 350 square miles.

The smallest population of one London is 20,000 in the City—and the largest population 4,300,000 in the County of London.

The County of London, 16,000 companies own property of the value of £70,000,000, the rentals of which are about £10,000,000 a year, and yet they have no vote for the election of a single person to represent them for their total payment every year of £20,000,000 in rates. Yet one-third of the total rates are paid by the poor people who have a vote for the rates they pay every year. So far as taxation and representation is concerned, the third of the tax-paying property has no share in controlling the expenditure. The remainder of the property, which is paid for by the poor people, is paid for by the poor people, who are the most numerous and the most numerous.

Every year at least 1,000,000 Londoners are brought before the police magistrates on various charges.

Within the 12 square miles of the County of London there are 15,000 people who have no vote for the election of a single person to represent them for their total payment every year of £20,000,000 in rates. Kwong Long was treating his friends to cigars last week.

Mrs. Fitzer entertained quite a number for dinner on Christmas.

Our popular confectioner was treating his many friends to Xmas cigars.

Invitations are out for a party at Philip Beisiegel's on Thursday evening.

A number of Cayleyites attended the opening of the rink in High River.

An extra gang are busy on the railway putting down heavy steel on the sidings.

Mr. Philip Beisiegel sold a large number of pigeons to the Calgary Shooting Club.

Work has begun on the new bank building. Jas. Colwell of Nanton has the contract.

Harry Bowen, our genial barber treated a large number of his friends to boxes of cigars.

A number of the Cayley people went to Meadowbank to the Christmas tree, and report a good time.

C. W. Kenna has just filled his ice house. Waiting until a fair to put up ice has been a failure around Cayley.

Rev. and Mrs. Bushfield entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sexsmith, Mrs. Kerr and F. F. Macdonald to Christmas dinner.

The Cayley boys had a Smoker to smoke out the old year. About twenty-five were present and a pleasant time was spent.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. J. G. Marth, who has been ill, is getting better nicely and will be around as usual in a short time.

Miss Lobban of Maple Creek assumed her new duties as teacher in the Cayley school. The Hustler wishes Miss Lobban every success.

The masquerade ball given in McDonald's hall on Monday eve was a fine success. The attendance was good and everyone enjoyed themselves.

Lost—A black fur gauntlet or around Cayley, on Tuesday, Jan. 3rd. Finder kindly leave it at, or write to, the Methodist parsonage, Cayley.

The Bank of Hamilton is about to erect a new building for a bank to be one storey high and 24 feet wide by 40 long on the corner of Railway and Hammond.

Kwong Long treated the boys to Christmas dinner. About fifteen were present, and they report the tables were laden with delicacies prepared as only Kwong can prepare them.

C. W. Kenna, proprietor of the Cayley hotel, and his wife, were the kind host and hostess of all the wireless young men of Cayley last Sunday afternoon (New Year's day). To say that the boys enjoyed it, is putting it mild.

Miss Etta Macdonald left for her home in Meadowbank last week. Miss Macdonald since coming to this district has taught at Braeside and Braemar schools, where she won the love of her pupils and the appreciation of the parents for the earnest effort she put forth to maintain the high standard of scholars. She has by her social disposition made a large circle of friends in the Cayley district, who regret very much that she will not be resuming her work here after the holidays. Her many friends wish her success in whatever calling she may see fit to follow.

Some Cayleyites were in Nanton on Monday, Dec. 26th and report the cantata in the Presbyterian hall a success. This reflects much credit on Miss Collard who was instructor.

The work on the rural telephone lines around Cayley is being pushed along in good shape, and is expected to be completed at an early date. An exchange will also be installed in the town.

Miss Scragg gave Christmas dinner to about twenty-five on Monday evening. The tables were heavily laden with many good things, which were greatly enjoyed by the guests.

There were some people drove seventeen miles to the entertainment in Cayley on the Friday prior to Christmas day. This is not to wondered at when you consider the class of entertainments usually given in Cayley.

We print all kinds of Local Improvement Council Stationery which we supply promptly to those who want any. Also School Tax Receipts, Nomination and Tax Receipts, etc. Leave your order with the Hustler at once.

Our merchants report an exceptionally good holiday trade this year, if anything better than previous years; and this, too, when things looked the dullest. Cash sales were plentiful, which, no doubt will materially help some.

The Christmas tree entertainment held in the Presbyterian church was a great success, standing room being at a premium. A fine programme was given by the children. Many compliments were paid to Miss Eaglesham for the excellent manner in which she had the children trained.

Harry Warner arrived in Cayley a few days ago on his way to Kinrossdale to visit his brother Jack. He was told in Spokane that he came up here he would be up to his ears in snow. Spokane people must be very ignorant of the conditions up here. We had better give the country a write-up in the Hustler and send them a few copies.

Miss Pearl Noble, who has done such splendid work as school teacher in Cayley school for the past year, bade good-bye to her many friends last Saturday and returned to her home in High River. Miss Noble will attend Alberta College in Edmonton next year, and we wish her every success. A pleasant hour was spent in the school room on Friday afternoon. A program was given by the children and Santa Claus sent his wife over to visit the school.

J. E. Loucks, B.A., school inspector in the High River district which includes Cayley, has been appointed to succeed C. R. Russell B.A., as science master in the Provincial Normal school. Mr. Loucks resigned the principalship of the Medicine Hat schools in the spring of 1907 to accept the inspectorship, when the number of inspectors was increased. His present appointment of education is considered a promotion.

Some severe weather struck this part of the province Dec. 29 and continued to New Year's day when the thermometer dipped down to 30 below zero mark. A few ears and noses got nipped, and some in revenge took a nip of something else. It was nip and tuck. We are not accustomed to severe weather in Southern Alberta, and we feel it more keenly when we get a cold snap like this. A friendly chinook came on Monday, making a difference in temperature of some 60 or 70 degrees in a few hours.

Mrs. Sinclair and family of Nanton have been the guests of her mother, Mrs. Crawford, for a few days. They left to take up their home in Calgary on Monday.

A fine conscience-scotching excuse for breaking the New Year's resolutions will be the fact that they were made on a Sunday and hence not binding. All chronic resolvers should have this handy in case of emergency.

Village Nominations

A meeting of the ratepayers, for the nomination of candidates to represent the village for 1911, was held in Macdonald's hall, on Tuesday, Jan. 3rd, with F. F. Macdonald, chairman; and Mr. Slater, secretary.

It was gratifying to learn from the financial report of the retiring council that the village finances were in a first-class condition, and the old council are to be congratulated in being able to report so favorably.

The following nominations then took place: F. H. Clark, Alex. Nablo, L. Beaton, J. W. Bradley, J. G. Elves, E. Elves, F. G. Macdonald.

The above makes a good selection for the ratepayers to choose from, any of which, will do their very best for the good of the village.

According to the Statutes, no candidates' nomination will hold good, or any ratpayer vote, unless all taxes are paid. In consequence, back taxes have been flying in at a 1.30 gait. Our worthy sec-treas. is quite exhausted taking in the cash and writing out receipts.

OTHER NOMINATIONS

Div. I. 17-27—R. A. Bell, acclamation.

Div. III. 17-28—Geo. Reams and H. C. Windgate

Div. V. 17-29—Fred Ray, acclamation.

Shortly after midnight Saturday fire was discovered in the vicinity of the furnace, fire of St. George's hotel, High River, doing damage amounting to about $2,500. The town fire department did good work, notwithstanding the fact that the fire had made considerable headway between the walls and ceilings of the kitchen, hall and other rooms. Had it not been for the New Year's Eve the fire would have made great headway before being discovered, as mostly all the guests had remained up to witness the old year out. During the fire the thermometer ranged at 30 below zero. This is the second hotel fire in High River from defective flues within the past two or three weeks.
